Says the current bulletin of our Southern Newspaper Publishers association:

A mountaineer took his boy to school to enroll him. "My boy's after learnin', what dya have?" he asked the teacher. "We offer english, trigonometry, spelling, etc.," she replied. "Well, give him some of that trigonometry, he's the worst shon in the family."

There ever was any doubt in your mind as to where the key to world peace lies you know now—it's in Berlin.

Russia's Molotov rejects all Big Four efforts to write a German peace treaty. And he ignores our suggestion that Russia help settle the uneasy truce in Korea and the very active war still going on in Indo-China. He stands on the German question precisely as he took an equally arbitrary position in Asia. Without this black-mail action on Germany he would be compelled to give us an answer regarding Korea and Indo-China.

It's a point all Americans might as well realize because sooner or later we are going to have to decide what to do about that missing German treaty. As long as Russia keeps us hung up on that hook she is free to back guerrilla war and revolution all over Asia.

The Western powers are going to have to do something about Germany whether Russia likes it or not because Germany belongs to Europe and as long as Moscow keeps her occupation troops in the eastern half she dominates the situation in both Europe and Asia.

We grant Russia the natural domination of Asia—but of Europe we do not. And when you couple to this fact the certain knowledge that if she could be put out of Germany we could settle the problems of Asia and have a clear picture of the probable course of world events—however grim the picture may be.

Always assuming of course, that the Russians won't back down under an ultimatum. Their long-range history does allow of this possibility. That is the calculated risk the West must some time take—offering a peace treaty to all the Germans without Russian consent.

Fire Guts Eight Businesses in Ashdown

ASHDOWN (AP) — Eight businesses comprising about a fourth of Ashdown's business district were destroyed and four persons narrowly escaped death in an early morning fire today.

The blaze lasted about three hours.

The family of Charles Dowling, which lived on the second floor above the shoe in which the fire started, was trapped but rescued by firemen.

Destroyed were a pop corn stand owned by Henry Wilcox, Cowling's Grocery, Oscar Oliver's loan office, Elmer Eddy's Barber Shop, Jones Cafe, Counter's Radio Shop, Chessor's dime store and a pool hall.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started in Wilcox's pop corn stand and spread to the other store. A fire wall prevented the flame from spreading in a second direction.

All of the establishments were housed in one long building owned by three persons. No estimate of the loss to the building was made immediately. Bun Fawcett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, estimated the loss of contents at $33,000.

Fire companies from Texarkana, Ark., Red River Arsenal, Tex., Hope and Foreman helped fight the blaze.

The building faced on Highway 71, which runs through this Little River County community.

Don't Worry Over Detroit, Wilson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson said today that "I wouldn't worry about Detroit."

Commenting at a news conference on last night's announcement that the auto capital has been designated as a distressed labor area, the former General Motors president added:

"Come spring, it's going to be all right."

The announcement from the labor Department added Detroit to a list of 20 other major cities and 31 smaller communities with more than 6 per cent of their labor forces out of work. The finding of "substantial" unemployment made Detroit eligible for preference in obtaining government contracts and Wilson was asked if he knew of any business it might shift there.

He replied that he knew of no particular military contract that might be channeled to the Michigan metropolis.

Then, commenting generally on the situation, he said that the area is "well able to look after itself" in any period of temporary labor surplus.

When supply and demand are in balance, Wilson said, business is never quite so good in Detroit. To that he added his forecast for the spring.

Condition of Pope Improved

By ROBERT E. JACKSON
VATICAN CITY (UP) — The Vatican announced a slight improvement in the condition of Pope Pius XII again today and high sources said there was hope the acute state of his illness was over.

The pope spent the most restful night since he became ill, Vatican sources said. This news was followed by a communique of the Vatican press office which reported:

Molotov Cool to Bid for Peace in Korea

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
BERLIN (AP) — A Western bid for V. M. Molotov to prod Red China into an early Korean peace conference was repudiated today to have received a cool reception from the Soviet foreign minister.

As the Big Four shifted temporarily back to their dreary discussion of Germany, diplomats familiar with yesterday's secret session said the Korean proposition was represented to Molotov then as a possible step toward ending the Indo-China War.

Molotov they said, made no promise. Instead he was reported to have stuck to his demand for a big power conference with Communist China and for a disarmament conference outside the United Nations. Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Georges Bidault turned him down in secret as they previously had in public.

The foreign ministers agreed in a secret session yesterday to take up the Austrian independence treaty not later than Friday. A trifle of information hinted the two sides also established more clearly in some respects their positions on Asia questions.

Compromise May Solve Union Feuds

By NORMAN WALKER
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A compromise plan for solving union jurisdictional feuds within the AFL was expected to win approval today from the AFL Executive Council.

The plan was worked out last night by a special committee. It reportedly gives AFL unions this choice: Submitting scraps to binding arbitration, or leaving them up to previously ineffectual AFL machinery.

The problem has long annoyed employers and contributed to interunion warfare. It involved rival union claims over what types of work properly belong to particular unions. Employers are often harassed by conflicting union claims over the "right" to perform various jobs.

With rising unemployment AFL unions have indicated more frequently a desire to work out conflicting work claims in an orderly manner and the AFL convention in St. Louis last fall directed the AFL council to make some arrangement.

Wilson Assures No U.S. Pilots Will Be Sent to Aid French in Indochina

Rebel Invaders Push Nearer Laotian Capital

By MAX CLOS

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — French and Laotian defenders of Luang Prabang braced today for an "imminent" attack from the Communist-led Vietnamese. The rebel invaders were reported within 25 miles of the royal Laotian capital on the banks of the Mekong River.

Laos' rheumatic old King Sisavang Vong vowed once more the city of 142,000 would be defended "until the end." He made the same pledge last spring when the Vietnamese invaded to within 12 miles of Luang Prabang, then withdrew without a major battle.

This time there was every indication the fight would be joined. The French said they had completed their major defenses against the onslaught.

The Vietnamese invaded Laos from the north early last week, sending at least a division through the jungles and down the valleys of the Hou and Suong, rivers toward the capital.

As the rebels advanced, the French and Laotian forces and many civilians withdrew under the cover of intensive French air bombardment, leaving rice stocks burning behind them in an effort to destroy food other Red fighters need.

Though the Vietnamese were reported, officially within 25 miles of Luang Prabang it was possible their advance troops were closer.

Officials said yesterday the invaders had been stopped, at least temporarily, as they tried to force a crossing of the Suong in the area of Pakseng, 37 miles north of Luang Prabang and strategically located at the juncture of the Suong and Seng rivers.

To Discuss Change of U.S. Policy in East

By EARNEST HOBRECHT

TOKYO (UP) — U. S. Ambassador to Japan John M. Allison and U. S. Far East Commander Gen. John E. Huie will leave here tomorrow for the United States to hold consultations which may change the course of American policy in Asia.

Both men have termed their Washington visits "routine" but observers here pointed out that the "routine" jobs of these men are very important to the United States.

It was believed their first-hand reports to the U. S. State Department and the U. S. Department of Defense would carry considerable weight. Some quarters thought their report might influence American policy in Asia as it is shaping up now — with the peace talk efforts bogged down in Korea and Communist forces of the offensive in Indochina.

Reliable sources here said they believed Allison may be called upon by U. S. State Department officials to give his views on these subjects:

Baby Murdered at Fort Smith

FORT SMITH (AP) — Sebastian County Coroner Dr. William H. Polk said a day-old baby found here yesterday in a kitchen cabinet with a black-strapped butcher knife nearby had been murdered.

The body of the boy wrapped in tissue paper, was found by police inside a kitchen cabinet in the apartment of an 18-year-old girl.

The girl whose name was withheld, was being treated at a hospital.

Dr. Polk said an autopsy performed on the child showed the baby died from skull fracture and "multiple" stab wounds. The child was born yesterday, Dr. Polk said.

The coroner said the boy's entire body bore signs of a severe beating.

No charges have been filed in the child's death.

Several local men attended an organization meeting of the White Oak Lake Association at Chidester, over the weekend and while there questioned officials about the Bois d'Arc Creek project which has cooled off considerably. Kenneth Ambrose reports he was assured that G&F Commission representatives will return to Hope soon to try again to make a deal for land which the proposed public hunting ground and lake would cover. Only one thing blocked the project — owners of land in the area wanted more than the G&F Commission was willing to pay.

Additional Indictments Prepared

WASHINGTON (UP) — Justice Department sources predicted today that new indictments will be made as a result of its widespread investigation of "fabulous surplus ship deal."

Those sources indicated that, like the indictment made public yesterday, formal charges already have been brought before the courts by grand juries, but have remained sealed and unavailable to the public pending the arrest or surrender of some of the defendants.

It was intimated that some of these defendants are now in this country. To disclose that they are under indictment, these sources said, would hamper chances of ever bringing them into a court.

The first major indictment in the department's surplus ship investigation was opened yesterday. It accused nine persons, an "old corporation of conspiring to defraud the government and to file false statements with the government in connection with the post-war purchase of surplus vessel."

Among those indicated were former Rep. Joseph E. Casey (D-Mass.) and Aristoteles S. Onassis, wealthy Greece-born shipbuilder and operator who owns Monte Carlo Casino.

State Cotton Acreage Hike 284,351

Arkansas cotton farmers will receive an increase of approximately 284,351 acres in the state's cotton acreage allotment for 1954 as result of legislation enacted last week. This hike is the state's largest in 10 years, compared with the 100,000-acre increase in 1953.

The larger of .65 per cent of the acreage planted to cotton in the farm for the three years 1952, 1953, and 1954, or 40 per cent of the highest acreage planted in any of those years, not to exceed 100,000 acres of the total crop land in the state.

Approximately 161,800 acres of increased allotment will be allocated directly to farms on the basis of the 1952-54 average. The method to be used will provide for the maximum use of such additional acreage as provided by the legislation.

The new legislation also provides that farmers receiving allotments may release for 1954, or permanently, to the county committee, any portion of such allotment that will not be planted to cotton on the farm. Acreage releases may be reapportioned by the county committee to other farms in the county. Any part of such acreage not needed in a given county may be released to the State Committee for reapportionment to other counties.

Acreage released will not make a farm ineligible for future allotments.

county cropland factor heretofore established; allotments for new cotton farms (farms on which cotton was not planted in 1951, 1952, or 1953) on the basis of land, labor, and equipment available for the production of cotton, crop rotation practices and soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton.

Adjustments of farm acreage allotments will be made on the basis of the above-mentioned factors which are fair and reasonable in relation to such factors and abnormal conditions of products on such farms.

The method to be used will provide for the maximum use of such additional acreage as provided by the legislation.

The new legislation also provides that farmers receiving allotments may release for 1954, or permanently, to the county committee, any portion of such allotment that will not be planted to cotton on the farm. Dodge Contest to Mark 40th Anniversary

To draw attention to its 40th anniversary as a manufacturer of automobiles, Dodge has announced plans to launch a nationwide contest which will offer grand-prize winners two-week vacations with double their pay and other major awards. B. R. Hamm, Hope, Ark. said the contest will run from February 10 to March 29.

Asia Situation Laid to Allied Cooperation

By EARNEST HOBEBRECHT

TOKYO (UP)—Top U. S. diplomatic military officials in the Far East believe the lack of cooperation between America's individual allies in Asia is hindering the overall fight against communism, it was learned here today.

Officials said that while the United States enjoys good "two-way" cooperation with her individual allies in Asia, many of those countries are very reluctant to cooperate with each other.

"They are willing to cooperate with the United States but they can't seem to get the idea they must all pull together within their own Asian circle," one high official said. "Some almost are at sword's point."

Japan and Korea were cited as examples of American allies who work in close harmony with the United States but can't get along together.

Both have defense pacts with the United States — yet relations between the two countries almost have reached the state of rupture.

South Korean coast guard ships are seizing Japanese fishing vessels and the Korean government is baring Japanese boats.

Japan is demanding the return of millions of dollars worth of property in Korea which was liberated from Japanese rule by Allied forces.

The United States has defense pacts with the Philippines, New Zealand, Australia, Korea and Japan.

"The United States had defense pacts with the Philippines, New Zealand, Australia, Korea and Japan."

"The United States looks upon these defense arrangements as being primarily aimed to protect these countries against Communist aggression," official said. "However, it must be admitted that some of our allies look upon them as protection against the possibility of renewed Japanese aggression."

An American diplomatic official here said fear of Japan is one of the factors hindering "overall" cooperation among America's allies in Asia.

Pointing out this fear still is very real in many quarters, he cited the howls that went up in Australia when it was learned the United States planned to use a few Japanese civilian technicians on a mapping expedition in New Guinea. Because of the protests, the Japanese technicians had to be eliminated from the plans.

"The official said he believed the free nations of Asia could hold out 'indefinitely' against communism 'if they will cooperate among themselves as well as with us.'"

Texas Natural Gas Tax Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today unanimously struck down a Texas tax on natural gas transmitted by pipe line companies to consumers in 38 other states.

The levy was attacked in appeals by the Pennhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. and the Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. They contended the tax was an unconstitutional burden on the free flow of commerce between the states.

Justice Clark who delivered the high court's decision, said: "It is perhaps sufficient that the privilege taxed, namely the taking of the gas, is not so separate and distinct from interstate transportation as to support the tax."

"But, additional objection is present if the tax be upheld. It would permit a multiple burden upon that interstate commerce."

INJURIES FATAL

PERRYVILLE (AP)—A Perryville man died today of injuries suffered when a car in which he was riding overturned on Highway 10 near here night.

The victim was Curtis Butler, about 35. His companion, Martin Baswell, was not injured seriously. Sheriff A. A. Wright said the automobile rolled over several times after failing to make a curve in the highway.

Thousands of asteroids revolve around the Sun, mostly in paths between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter.

February 8 until midnight March 29. A grand-prize winner every day for the 40 days the contest will run will have a new 1954 Dodge placed at his or her disposal, including gas and oil for the "two-weeks away with double pay" period.

In addition to double-pay, grand-prize winners will have all their transportation, meals and hotel accommodations paid and be given an extra $500 in cash to spend or save as they please.

The two-week vacation is for two people, with the double-pay being based on the one whose salary or wage is the higher. Additional prizes totaling $10,000 will be awarded to other than grand-prize winners.

Contestants will be eligible for the contest, B. R. Hamm said, by visiting their nearest Dodge dealer.

The dealer will furnish them with an entry blank upon which they will be asked to complete in 25 words or less this sentence: "I would like to take my vacation in a 1954 Dodge because..."

The entry blank may be completed and left at the dealership, or taken home by the contestant for completion and then mailed to the contest headquarters.

alcoholism over a fine talent.

He settled in Greenwich Village and became a character in an out-of-date Bohemianism. He died of a 22 caliber bullet through the chest, and the sadness and perhaps the truth; thing you can say of Maxwell Bodenheim is that the guy who pulled the trigger picked the right size gun to measure his final status as a writer. Max pulled the trigger on his own life long ago, or at least on the promise that his life held. And why he did it is his own secret, and our mystery.

John Masefield mopped a bar-room floor in Greenwich Village and later became famous. Eugene O'Neill dreamed and loved and probably drank there. So did Edna Millay, Alexander Hamilton, Edgar Allan Poe, and a very eloquent living friend of mine named John Lardner, and a hundred talented others.

My wife and I, when young, lived for seven happy years next door to the home where once had dwelt Richard Harding Davis, the Ernie Fyle of his day, and three doors from the apartment house where Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt lived for a time. Too as a matter of fact, Ernie Fyle lived in Greenwich Village briefly, and was unhappy there.

Greenwich Village today is one of the nicest residential communities for some of the most solidly respectable people in America. It has a few of the finest restaurants in the land. It also has a few cheap tawdry night clubs that are a disgrace to it and the people who come there looking for "atmosphere."

They are tearing down Mark Twain's old home to put up a big apartment house. New York University, where Thomas Wolfe taught, English by day and broadened and wrote by night, is gradually ringing Washington Square, the heart of Greenwich Village, and, some oldtimers fear, turning it into a campus.

Real estate men say that one out of three young, eager, ambitious people who come to New York want to settle first in Greenwich Village. They seek inspiration and atmosphere, and being young, they think they can find it where other people they have heard of found these things before them.

But, receiving Greenwich Village as a symbol, did Maxwell Bodenheim ever find it, although he came here, lived here and died here. He became a Greenwich Village character for the tourists while the real Bohemians were enjoying Park Avenue.

The lesson of Bodenheim, certainly is that the best address for a man's inspiration is his own mind, and has his home of any true artist is a always his heart where he really lives.

transport pilots to bolster its air communications in the battle with Communist rebels — a move that would have put American airmen closer than ever before to actual combat operations in the Indo-China war.

State and Defense Department officials were understood to have raised strong objections on grounds the action might commit this country too deeply in the Southeast Asia struggle and produce serious political repercussions.

by JOHN W. FINNEY

WASHINGTON (UP)—France has asked the United States to push American transport pilots to Indo-China to bolster its air communications in the battle with Communist rebels, it was learned today.

Informed sources said the French particularly requested men to fly U.S. C-119 Flying Boxcars which are tricky to maneuver into the short landing strips in Indo-China.

The move would put American airmen closer than ever before to actual combat operations in the seven year old war and a key official said the government will take "a good long look" at the implications before making a decision.

Already state and Defense Department officials are understood to have raised strong objections on the grounds the action might commit this country too deeply in the southeast Asia struggle and produce serious political repercussions.

A brief but significant Senate debate yesterday showed that congressmen are becoming increasingly anxious over possible further American involvement in Indo-China.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said the "swiftly developing crisis" could end in a Red victory or "the entanglement of the United States in another Korean situation."

In a unusual move Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) intervened to give their assurances the administration does not at present intend to send more military force to Indo-China.

Although the pilots requested by France would be for transports, officials pointed out they probably would have to fly over Red-held territory and ran the risk of being shot down and possibly captured.

TV Seen Threat to Country Fair

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Television was seen today as a threat to the old country fair, once the top entertainment feature of the year in some sections of Arkansas.

Leading off a panel discussion at the seventh annual convention of the Arkansas Fair Managers Association here, Secretary-Manager Clyde Epp of the State Livestock Show said:

"You may as well realize that people who have television and see the attractions of the nation right in their living rooms are not coming to your fair and put up with something mediocre."

"They're being educated to class entertainment and they're going to expect it at your fair."

Onchita County Judge M. C. Reynolds of Camden, president of the Fair Managers Association, said his county fair was planning to meet the TV challenge by providing "more attractive programs and planning more advertising."

Reynolds expressed belief that a business slump would hurt his fair more than TV.

Roosevelt Goes East Unexpectedly

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — (UP) — James Roosevelt, warring with his wife in a separate maintenance battle in which she charged him line is being produced at the same rate as during last summer's motoring season, although consumption is 12 per cent lower and storage supplies are a record high.

The magazine predicted that if this situation continues, gasoline at stocks will total 180,000,000 barrels by the time the motoring season starts April 1.

with wholesale adultery planned to fly to New York today for a two-day stay.

Roosevelt cancelled a speaking engagement and said he was "tired East," but gave no reason for his trip.

Trans World Airlines said he was scheduled to arrive at New York's Idlewild Airport at 8 a. m. (EST) Tuesday.

Samuel B. Picone, Roosevelt's lawyer, said he was not told of Roosevelt's trip or his plans in the Eastern city.

"We haven't seen each other since Friday. We've been avoiding each other," the attorney said. "After a solid week of conferences, we decided to give each other a rest."

The conferences culminated in a Pasadena Superior court hearing Friday on Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt's request for $3,500 monthly temporary support for herself and the three Roosevelt children.

The hearing was continued after Mrs. Roosevelt testified her monthly expenses included $500 for household help, $270 for music and swimming lesson for the children, $150 for musical instruments, $175 tuition for their private schools, $100 for "educational play equipment" for the children, and $50 for dry cleaning.

Mrs. Roosevelt said through her attorney, Arthur Schifferman, that her husband had $2,000,000 in assets. Roosevelt replied he was $28,000 in debt, upping the figure to "about $78,000" at the hearing, which will resume Feb. 15.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she could not manage on the $900 a month she now gets from her husband. In her separate maintenance suit show named three women as correspondents and included a letter Roosevelt signed in 1945 in which he admitted intimacies with other women. Roosevelt denied the misconduct and denied he wrote the letter, but said he would "blackmail" into signing it.

ACCESSIBILITY. New and remodeled stations are built on an open plan with the building set well back. This makes entry and exit far easier, especially at busy corner locations.

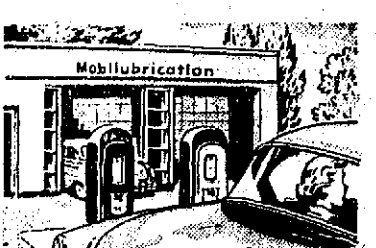

QUICK SERVICE. Pump islands are set out in the open so you can spot the right pump quickly and approach it with ease. All of the products and equipment needed for speedy service are close at hand.

MODERN EQUIPMENT. From air hose towers to lubricating lifts, Mobilgas stations are getting the very latest in equipment, assuring you of faster, pleasanter service at the Sign of the Flying Red Horse.

TESTS CONTINUE. As the Magnolia-Southwest continues to grow, new service problems arise. Industrial areas, housing developments, expressways, divided highways all present problems, and Magnolia's planning and testing continues, so that tomorrow's service may be even better.

Building Better Service At The Sign of The Flying Red Horse

• How to serve you better is always our biggest problem. Stations that look almost identical are remarkably different in their ability to serve. At some stations, it's hard to reach the right pump, and proper servicing seems to take far too much time and effort. At others, you glide in easily, the whole operation goes smoothly and quickly, and you drive on your way again... smiling.

The difference is in design. And good design doesn't just happen. By study and planning we try to anticipate your service problems and solve them years before you drive up to the pump.

During the past few years, quiet planning and careful testing have given us the answers to most of your service problems. Now as our building program goes forward, new and remodeled stations are benefiting from these test findings. And even in the stations that show no obvious change, subtle improvements and new equipment are bringing even better service along with top quality products. Pull into a Mobilgas Dealer Station and see...each job goes a little smoother, and it takes but the briefest of pauses before you swing out easily...on your way again.

Duquesne Gains
a Little on Kentucky

By GSN PHLEGAR

E WYORK (AP) — Kentucky continued to win games by 40 points or more but the Wildcats' first-place margin over Duquesne in the Associated Press basketball poll is getting smaller and smaller.
This week the 97 experts who participated virtually admitted they couldn't choose between the two. Kentucky got the nod 757 to 751 on the basis of 19 points for a first-place vote 6 for second and on down the line.

Forty-nine of the voters named Kentucky first or second, whereas Duquesne drew 12 first place votes and 43 for second. Five ballots skipped Kentucky altogether. Only two named Duquesne.

Duquesne has won 14 games against college competition and lost against seven teams without a loss. Kentucky won 17th straight last night 97-55 over Florida.

Duquesne's defending national champions continued the trip on third place that they have maintained since suffering their only loss — to Oregon State in the week before Christmas. The Hoosiers polled 687 votes, almost 450 ahead
of fourth place Oklahoma A&M.

Western Kentucky gave up its
No. 4 spot to the Aggies after suffering its first loss but slipped only as far as fifth. Bounding out the top 100 was Notre Dame, La Salle, Seattle, Holy Cross and George Washington. All except GW were in the select group last week.
GW, 11th a week ago, moved up
by beating Duke Saturday night.
This decision tumbled Duke from the No. 8 spot to 15th.

The leading teams on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

Aggies Give Bryant
a Big Welcome

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—
Paul (Bear) Bryant, doctor of nil-ing football teams, told six thousand cheering exas Aggies last night.

"We must be realistic. We have a tough job. By hard work, arm in arm and working as a team, we can get the job done."

Bryant spoke at a giant rally a few minutes after his arrival to take over as head coach and athletic director at Texas A&M. The job to be done obviously was to rebuild Texas Aggie football fortunes, as Bryant did Kentucky's.

SMU Soundly
Licks Porkers
for Third Spot

DALLAS (AP) — Defending champion Texas Christian plays the Baylor Bears, conquerors of Texas tonight in a featured Southwest Conference game that is, almost sure to knock the loser out of the championship race.

Southern Methodist whipped Arkansas 92-68 last night to send the Porkers out of contention while Texas, taking a breather from a rough conference schedule, downed Texas Tech 64-36.

Any of the loop's seven teams had a chance at the crown until SMU broke loose with its best performance of the season to whip the Razorbacks.

The victory put the Mustangs in undisputed possession of third place with a 4-3 record behind Texas at 5-1 and Rice at 4-2. Baylor and Texas Christian are listed for fourth with identical 3-3 records. Arkansas has a 3-4 mark and Texas A&M has lost 6 straight while winning none.

The Mustangs used a sizzling fast break and uncanny accuracy
at the free throw line in overwhelming the Porkers in Dallas.
They outscored the boys from the Ozarks in every period as Ronnie Morris, with 19 points, and Orval
Elkins, with 13, led the way.

The Hogs just about fouled themselves out of the conference race in the third period. In the first 12 minutes of the quarter, the Porkers lacked in 12 straight free throws as Glen Rose's boys tried vainly to stop the fast drive.

Tonight's contests are the last until Saturday when SMU gets Texas A&M at College Station, Arkansas and TCU meet at Fayetteville, and Rice and Texas play a crucial tilt in Houston.

The Doctor Disagrees

By Elizabeth Selfert

Dr. Stephen Carr is about to leave his native Norfolk in the mid-west, for Army duty in the Pacific. He has arranged with his old friend, Dr. Craig Talbot, a well-known physician, to come to Norfolk from a distant city for the purpose of taking over the Carr medical practice. Talbot arrives and is warmly greeted by Carr and his gracious wife, Shelly, at dinner in their home. Shelly is struck by the dark handsome Talbot's dynamic force, his charm and sense of humor and especially by his gentle and patient way with his patients. She wonders whether her husband's patients will accept him by rank, doctor, acceptable as his doctor.

CHAPTER EIGHT

"Was Dr. Talbot also just being — shocking — to what he said about the medical association?"

"Well," hedged Stephen, "they aren't the same."

"Is he in bad trouble, Stephen?
I mean, this losing his last job?"

"Not really bad trouble. The hospital asked for his resignation, as it had a right to do. There was perhaps a certain amount of smear which prevented his immediate placement elsewhere. That's the methods he claims the association uses to enforce its opinions, and protect its system, and, as I said,
his claims are constantly being borne out."

"Has he promised to behave
here?"

"Certainly not!" Stephen laughed. "I haven't asked him for any such pledge. One, because he would have kicked me squarely in the teeth."

"Two, because I think a man like Talbot should be allowed to work no matter what he says or thinks. Nobody denies his brilliance as a surgeon and as a diagnostician — and he should be judged on that basis alone."

Shelly paid his cheek against his shoulder. "I'm glad you gave him
the job, Stephen. I'm proud of you for doing it."

"Well, I'm sorry for the guy.
And then, too — it isn't that I always agree with Craig. I don't and I certainly deplore the hatchet methods he often uses. But — on while I haven't the personal guts
to be an out-and-out rebel to offer a hand to a free soul like Talbot,"

"You worked under him," didn't you?"

"He was an instructor in medical school," Stephen agreed. "But he himself was well in training as a student and moved up to the top of his class."

"It was Miss Cobb, Stephen's old girl, Shelly, pointed at the clock behind the bed. Nine exactly.
"This suite all right, Miss Cobb?"

"Yes, quite all right, Miss Cobb."

"I'll be right back, Miss Cobb."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — In no other sport is the competitor so completely at the whim of fate as he is in golf. We have felt that the rules of the game, scarcely changed since the days of the gutta percha ball, were downright stupid
in some cases.

The latest exhibit in support of this contention is the story of Bob Imman, a youthful dark horse from Tulsa, Okla., who quite probably was beaten out of first prize money in the $10,000 Phoenix Open because a sheet of paper blew across his vision just as he was driving off on the 64th hole.

At one time he was leading his closest rival, Cary Middlecoff, by one stroke with nine holes to go.
Startled by the paper, blown from a nearby table Imman shrank into a grove of trees. He took a 7 on the hole and, thoroughly shaken by then, wound up with a 77 for the round and a total five shots
behind Middlecoff and Ed Furgol,
who played off the tie yesterday.

Our feeling is after having witnesses scores of fairly similar incidents in many years of following championship play, that there is no earthly reason why the golf ing-men should not unbow their necks lightly and try to give the players an even shake. In such an instance, why should the youngster not have been permitted a second whack from the tee?

It was a lot of money to ask him to surrender simply because some careless person permitted a paper to blow. Out on the fairway it would have been different for a player naturally looks around for stray dogs and other possible distractions before starting his swing. He has a right to feel he can relax from the tee.

Though golf has become so nearly hexach science and the competitor so close that a single stroke may normally be worth several thousands dollars in the big money events, there has been no slackening in the stern and ancient code which leaves so much to luck
there should be.

We have, for example, many times seen two players send their respective shots into the same sand trap, maybe only feet apart.
Yet one would find his ball lying upright while his rival's would be deeply imbedded in a heel print left by a spectator it never to the federal government.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled yesterday in favor of Kern-Limerick Inc. The U. S. Justice Department joined the company in appealing an Arkansas Supreme Court decision that Kern-Limerick
had to pay the tax.

Justice Reed, in writing the court's majority opinion, said that immutability of the federal government from such taxation by the states "is so embedded in constitutional history and practice that this court cannot subject the government or its official agencies
without a clear congressional mandate. No instance of such submission is shown."

Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black and Douglas dissented.

JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — If event, horse could be made to still the Democrats and Republicans already have their eyes for the 1954 congressional election in November. Democrats are hammering downtown in business which turned under the Eisenhower administration. The Republicans are working overtime on the subject of Communists in government under Democrats. Election time, business conditions may have evolved off, as adaptation economists say they don't. The Democrats have a talking point overshadowing everything the issue of Communists-in-government may be pushed into background by other developments before then. Instance, by November Congress will have finished this year's session on Eisenhower's program, affects practically every aspect, social security, unions, taxes, tariffs. President himself has said his party doesn't put over aggressive program it doesn't want to win. The congressional program will provide election issues. At this time, before Congress even begins to act on most of the program, Communists-in-government and the economic reverse have given the politicians on both sides something to talk about. For 20 years, beginning in the 1932 campaign, the Democrats banged away at the fact that the big depression began under the Republicans, which may explain one reason for their hitting so hard on the downturn now.

When some Republicans reacted with the charge that talk of a recession is unchristian and almost American, it may have been an indication that recession talk was getting under their skin.

And although Eisenhower himself said, when asked about this, that everyone is entitled to his own opinion, he, too, denounced the "propaganda of gloom and doom."

Over the weekend Sherman Adams, former governor of New Hampshire and now Eisenhower's assistant, said Democrats and "left-wingers" are trying to "foist" a "Fear Deal" on the people.

That the Republicans are meeting recession talk head on so fast can be considered both a mark of their aggressiveness and a sign that this is going to be a rough political year.

Atty. Gen. Brownell gave notice of rugged days ahead near last year's end with his attack on former President Truman.

The man Brownell twice tried to steer into the presidency, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, stepped up the tough talk not only about Truman but Democrats in general.

In a December speech, Dewey told a Hartford, Conn., audience

ROCKING-CHAIR REFLECTIONS — Mrs. Lorinda Ferguson Bailey sits in a rocker at her Marion, Iowa, home and reflects on the 108 years of her life. Her parents took her to eastern Iowa from Ohio in a covered wagon when she was a child. She now makes her home with Mrs. Rex Harrison, one of her six living children. Married twice, she has lost count of her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Jury Probe of Diplomat Is Not Planned

By JAMES F. DONOVAN

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Justice Department has decided against ordering any grand jury investigation into the perjury charges against former diplomat John Paton Davies, Jr., informed sources disclosed today.

These sources said the department is about ready to inform the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that, as of now, the department has been unable to unearth enough evidence to warrant a grand jury inquiry.

It was emphasized that the department is not in a position to give Davies a clean bill of health. It will merely say that the evidence to date does not warrant any criminal prosecution.

The department has thrown an usually heavy veil of secrecy around its investigation of the subcommittee's recommendation that Davies be prosecuted for perjury because of his testimony during the group's investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations in 1951 and 1952.

But Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., said recently that the department has completed its inquiry, and is about ready to report its conclusions to the subcommittee. But he has refused to reveal what the decision is.

I was emphasized that the Justice Department's decision that a grand jury investigation in unwarranted has nothing whatever to do with the current State Department review of Davies' numerous security clearances.

Davies, a career diplomat with many years experience in the Far East, was recently recalled from his Lima, Peru post to see if he measured up to the new security standards for government employees laid down by President Eisenhower's recent loyalty-security order.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has said he would personally examine the 2,000 pages of testimony taken during the State Department inquiry and render a decision.

The subcommittee recommendation for a perjury prosecution of Davies was made in July, 1952. It was based primarily on apparent discrepancies between Davies' story and that of former Agent Lyle H. Munson of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Munson testified in February, 1952, that Davies suggested to him in 1949 that the CIA make use of several people some of them accused Communists, in an ultra-secret CIA project. Davies denied he ever recommended that a Communist be put on the CIA payroll all of Munson's testimony because he was bound by government security regulations.

Davies was cleared several times of disloyalty charges under the old Truman Loyalty order. One of the witnesses in his behalf was Walter Bedell Smith, one-time head of the CIA and now undersecretary of state.

It Couldn't Happen But It Did

PHOENIX, Ariz., AP — The odds were heavy that it couldn't happen but it did.

Cary Middlecoff went into the 18th hole looking like a chinch to which underdog Ted Furgol in their playoff for the $2,000 top money of the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament.

The 32-year-old Middlecoff, a former National Open champion from Memphis, held a two-stroke lead as he and Furgol teed off on the 525-yard 18th and final hole.

Both were straight down the fairway off the tee. Then Middlecoff's approach shot sailed high and wide to the left, over the heads of the gallery, around the final green.

Middlecoff finally got down with a bogey six. The gallery grew tense. So did Furgol. He had a putt of 15 feet, maybe 20, to make for a birdie.

He putted. It dropped in. The crowd frankly reporting for the long shot to win his first major tournament, went slightly mad.

The 18th hole and a sudden death playoff were anti-climactic. Middlecoff had to take two putts to get down for a six.
